The Daffodils

I wandered lonely as a cloud
That floats on high o'er vales and hills,
When all at once I saw a crowd.
A host of golden daffodils;
Beside the lake, beneath the trees,
Fluttering and dancing in the breeze.

Continuous as the stars that shine
And twinkle on the Milky Way,
They stretched in never-ending line
Along the margin of a bay:
Ten thousand saw I at a glance
Tossing their heads in sprightly dance.

The waves beside them danced, but they
Out-did the sparkling waves in glee:
A poet could not but be gay,
In such a jocund company;
I gazed—and gazed --- but little thought
What wealth the show to me had brought.

For oft, when on my couch I lie
In vacant or in pensive mood,
They flash upon that inward eye
Which is the bliss of solitude;
And then my heart with pleasure fills,
And dances with the daffodils.

—William Wordsworth

Dear Members and Friends:

Just to let you know the newsletter is now being handed over to a very competent person that being Donna Vallas. I have served you since 1995 and it's time to turn this over to a very bright and young person with lots of energy My energy is slowly pooping out. Its been fun and I know you will enjoy the new editor of the Historical Society Newsletter. Thanks for being kind in your remarks in the past and you can look to the future of being well informed by Donna.

It's been a pleasure.
