WALKING TOUR OF THE MILWAUKEE AVENUE

HISTORICAL DISTRICT

1987

The Wheeling Historical Society has prepared this walking tour to highlight the historically significant buildings in the Milwaukee Ave. area. The tour is 1 1/2 miles in length, starting at the museum and ending at the Crabhouse.

Start at Chamber Park:

The museum is the original Village Hall which was built in 1894 on S. Milwaukee Ave. under the water tower.

The church at the east end of the park was built in 1865 on Dundee Rd. just west of Milwaukee Ave.

Both of these buildings were moved to their present location by the Historical Society.

Now go north on Wolf Rd. to Strong St. Turn right on Strong and head east.

This section was known as the Zelosky subdivision. William Zelosky owned the land, subdivided it, and sold lots in 1926-27. Then came the Depression, times were bad. Many of the people were forced to build houses of cardboard, garages, or at best, sub-standard houses.

Southeast corner of 3rd. and Strong -
Gieske house

This house was originally at the corner of Dundee Rd. and Wille Ave. It was moved here to make room for the shopping center. He was a veterinarian.

Northeast corner of 1st. and Strong -
Utpadel house

This house was originally on Dundee Rd. and was moved to make room for McDonalds. The Utpadel family ran the quarry and produced the cement blocks which were used to build many of the buildings in town.

Cross Mors Ave.

372 Mors house (1840's)
The Mors family, who farmed the land behind the house, also owned a tavern further north on Milwaukee Ave. This house is said to have been built around a log cabin.

400 Graf house
(now J. R. Wilke, Inc. Custom Builder)
Wheeling's first Telephone Exchange was operated out of this house from 1901 to 1927 by Augusta Schwingel Graf.

On the east side of Milwaukee Ave:

393 Hartmann House Restaurant (1917)
(now Bob Chinn's Crabhouse)
This restaurant was owned by the Hartmann family until 1955. The original ornate, mahogany bar is still in use today.

We hope you enjoyed your tour and learned a little more about Wheeling's history. You might wish to visit the Wheeling Cemetery where many of Wheeling's old settlers are buried. The cemetery, which is located on the south side of Dundee Rd. just east of Wolf Rd., is open daily from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

On the east side of Milwaukee Ave:

- 203 Wheeling Hospital (opened 1927)
(directly south of Kolssak's)
This was originally Dr. Larson's office which he turned into a hospital.
- 213 Krueger house
Mr. Krueger owned a Blacksmith Shop just south of the house.

On the west side of Milwaukee Ave:

- 224 Arnold house (1850-1870)
(now Trailer Sales Office)
Jacob Arnold worked as a Tinsmith with his brother-in-law, William Fassbender.
- 248 Kuffer house and barn (1840's)
He was a Beer Distributor with his business in a building just north of the house.
- 260 Pieper Garage (1928)
(now Harrison Supply)
August Pieper built this garage to replace his Blacksmith Shop at a time
when automobiles were becoming popular.
The garage was run by his son, Walter.
- 270 Pieper house (1840's)
This house is still owned and occupied by the Pieper family. The design of the cornices represents Greek Revival architecture.
- 290 Grewe house (1865)
This house was always a rental until the Grewe's bought it as a retirement home.
They previously owned a farm on the present site of Wheeling Nursery.

Turn right on Milwaukee Ave. and head south.
This section, between Strong St. and Dundee
Rd., was known as Muetzeberg Hill.

On the east side of Milwaukee Ave:

- 231 Wiest house (1900-1910)
- 219 Johnson house (1910-1920)
- 199 Royal Blue Store (1930's)
(now Acme Heating)
- 145 Periolat house (1850's)
(now Kiddie Kollege)
George Periolat, who married Emma Schneider, lived here with his family until he became wealthy working at the Crane Plumbing Co. and moved to a mansion in Chicago. Dr. J. George Schneider, Wheeling Township's first veterinarian, then moved here with his family. The Periolat's later moved back here to spend their last days, enlarging and remodeling the house at that time.
- 133 Schneider house (1840's)
Dr. Schneider's son, Reinhold, who owned a saddlery, lived here with his wife and two daughter's Adeline and Lucile. The girls, who never married, lived here together -- Adeline, now in her 90's,
still resides in the house.
- 119 Wolf house (1840's)
- 109 Meyer house (1910-1920)
(now Drum Center)
John Meyer was a retired farmer, and during World War I, grew garlic in what is now Don Roth's parking lot.
- 61 Schminke house (1860-80)
(now Don Roth's)
The Schminke family ran the General
Store, located where the Masonic Hall
now stands, in the 1880's.

Turn left on Dundee Rd. going east to the river.

On the north side of Dundee Rd:

444 Wheeling Farm Store (1939)
This was the original site of Boehmer's Creamery, which was destroyed by fire in the 20's. The original Wheeling Farm Store, owned by the Balling family, was located across the street just east of the river. (The foundation still remains) When the Forest Preserve District took over the land, the frame building was torn down and this one was built. They sold poultry, eggs, vegetables, and homemade apple cider for many years.

450 Welflin house (1893)
(behind the Wheeling Farm Store)
The Welflin and Balling families, who were related through marriage, lived in this two-flat. The Welflin's owned the General Store from 1918 to the 1960's. This house was also moved from the south side of Dundee Rd. east of the river to its present location.

Both buildings are still occupied by the Balling family.

Return to Milwaukee Ave. and turn left, going south.

On the west side of Milwaukee Ave:

4 Wheeling State Bank (1927)
(now Highwood Appliances)
The bank, originally across the street on the southeast corner, moved to this new building because of need for expansion. There was also a Drug Store on the 1st. floor and the Telephone Exchange on the 2nd. floor.

On the east side of Milwaukee Ave:

- 47 Forke house (1915)
(now Law Office - Ronald Urkovich)
- 61 Forke Garage (1920's)
(now Začk's Carpeting)
This building replaced the original garage, Wheeling's first, which was destroyed by fire. It was run by Frank Forke.
- 67 Wheeling Funeral Home (1920's)
(now John's Shoe Repair)
This building replaced the original funeral home, Wheeling's first, which was also destroyed by fire. It was owned by Frank Forke, who was also an Undertaker.
- 115 Schmidt Meat Market (1918)
(now Progressive Office Equipment)
The butcher, Hans Schmidt, was Wheeling's Village President from 1935 to 1945.

On the west side of Milwaukee Ave:

- 124 Union Hotel (1925)
(now Billy and Company)
This building replaced the original Union Hotel and Hall, built in 1877, which was destroyed by fire.
- 150 Bollenbach house (1880's)
They owned a General Store from the late 1880's to the 1930's.
- 160 Sigwalt house (1880's)
Mr. Sigwalt was the Postmaster and was a partner with Christ Bollenbach in the store which was located immediately south of Two Doves.
