Town mourns park president

BY TRISH LICHTENSTEIN
Daily Herald Staff Writer

Friends and family of James W. Gallagher remember the late Wheeling Park District board president as "a nice guy" who "tried to make a difference."

Gallagher, 38, died suddenly Wednesday in his Wheeling home. A park district commissioner since 1985, Gallagher was elected president last year. He was a systems analyst for Amoco Oil Co. in Chicago.

"He was really well-respected and friendly to everyone," said Francine Melamed, to whom Gallagher offered advice on the April 4 park board election. "He was a nice guy. He was the kind of guy who tried to make a difference, but he didn't stick out in a crowd."

The cause of Gallagher's death is still unknown, but his wife, Sue, said he had been feeling ill for the past 1½ weeks. Gallagher had blood tests taken Tuesday and was scheduled for additional tests Wednesday at Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines, his wife said.

"I would describe Jim as a man who cared about people and things and gave of himself," park district Director Karop Bavougian said.

A replacement will be named to finish the remaining two years of Gallagher's board term, he said.

James W. Gallagher

Services for James W. Gallagher, 38, of Wheeling, will be 10 a.m. Saturday at the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, 1111 Elmhurst Road, Prospect Heights.

Burial will be in Randhill Park Cemetery, Palatine.

He died Wednesday at Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines.

He was a systems analyst for Amoco Oil Co. and also served as president of the Wheeling Park District board. He was pursuing his master's degree at DePaul University.

He was a member of the Boy Scout Committee, Troop No. 262, and was past cubmaster for Cub Scout Pack No. 247. He coached many intramural sports for the Wheeling Park District and was on the finance committee of the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd.

Survivors include his wife, Susan; sons, James and Steven; daughter, Kristina; parents, Robert and June Gallagher; sisters, Donna Mayfield and Patricia Gallagher; brothers, John and Andrew; grandmothers, Rose Goebbert and Ruth Gallagher; and father-in-law, Stanley Stanton.

Visitation is 3 to 9 p.m. today at Kolasak Golden Rule Funeral Home, 189 S. Milwaukee Ave., Wheeling, and 9 to 10 a.m. Saturday at the church.

In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd.

Wheeling mourns passing of park board chief

The Wheeling Park District lost one of its greatest friends and hardest workers Feb. 22 with the death of James Gallagher. The 38-year-old father and Boy Scout leader left behind a legacy of love and care for his family and community that defined his life for friends and colleagues.

By Mike Wilkinson
Staff Writer

It was about 9:30 p.m. Oct. 29, and the cold air surrounding Childerley Park was damp. The last attendees of the Wheeling Park District's annual Spook Trail were winding their way through the maze of scary scenes and creepy monsters.

Most of the helpers were a little weary, wet and shivering. Many of them were from Boy Scout Troop 262 and most of them were tired. But as everyone was waiting for the long evening to end, a flashlight started making its way across the park and toward one of the spook stations.

Minutes later, James Gallagher, bundled up in his blue quilted coat, was at the scene; he was checking on the park district event, the Boy Scouts and on his son, Steve, who was one of the mock hooligans trying desperately to startle the Halloween revelers.

It was a perfect James Gallagher moment: a time when he could channel his care for his kids into concern for others: the Boy Scouts, the park district and the late-night celebrants.

FAMILY, FRIENDS AND acquaintances all draw the same picture of Gallagher: that of him showing up to an event, his hands deep in his pockets, his hair a little mussed. And no matter where he was, his children and his wife could be found nearby.

His involvement spanned many boundaries. He was a coach, a Boy Scout leader, a Girl Scout volunteer, an active participant at Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, a Republican precinct captain.

"He did so much but whatever he did it was because it was things the kids were involved with," his wife Sue said Monday. "That's how he got into it first."

Although he wasn't much of an athlete - he bowled in the church league - Gallagher repeatedly stole time away from his other commitments to coach some of the many teams his children played on. He had coached baseball, basketball, floor hockey and even soccer. But although his knowledge of the sport was limited, he decided to coach for his son.

"HE DID soccer once or twice. He didn't know much about soccer, but he figured at that age - it was Jamie's (their eldest son) first or second grade team . . . if he taught the kids how to kick the ball around the field he was doing OK," his wife said.

But while his children were the impetus for most of his involvement, once in an organization or on a board, Gallagher used his energy to work to improve things. With little fanfare, and an outwardly calm manner, Gallagher would argue, cajole, and debate. He would not, however, let differences of opinion get in the way of action.

Ed Main, another Wheeling resident active in a number of village and township activities, had worked with Gallagher for nearly a decade, both with the park district and the village. He said the community will miss Gallagher's "ability to argue . . . and then go for coffee afterward."

"He was a genuine public servant," Main said. "Just a guy we're going to miss."

MAIN LAUDED GALLAGHER for always coming up with new ideas and backing them up with the information needed to justify them. But, as an unassuming politician and community member, Gallagher "never put himself in front of an issue," Main said.

Coming up with ideas, it seems, was what Gallagher was constantly doing. On a recent vacation in Florida, Sue and Jim ran across Boy Scout parent Nancy Gruthusen and her family. Gruthusen's son, along with Jamie and Gallagher's other son Steven, were all in Troop 262.

Outside of a couple hellos, Jim immediately started talking about the Boy Scouts and merit badges, Gruthusen said. Although home and the troop were over 1,000 miles away, Gallagher was thinking about merit badges. It was vintage James Gallagher.

"He's always thinking about something to help kids advance," Gruthusen said.

GALLAGHER'S WIFE remembers the Florida incident well. "Things would pop in his mind and I'd sit there and go 'woa, I'm not thinking about that right now.' But he would," she said.

Sometimes while at work in the Loop, Gallagher would hook up with other people active in scouting and they'd "power lunch." They'd talk about scouts, not work.

"He managed to fit everything in somehow, I don't know how he did it. He kept track of everything, not necessarily in the most organized way of filing, but on the other hand, he always knew where it was and what he was doing for the time being," his wife said.

For being so active with the Boy Scouts, the troop gave him the annual Scouters Award last year, given to the individual who has gone "above and beyond the call of duty." With his wife, Gallagher counseled scouts on earning merit badges. Both worked with the troop's 34 members on how they could improve their rank and receive the required merit badges.

SOMETIMES, GALLAGHER would invite some of the scouts to his house to help them with their badges. For a merit badge on railroading, Gallagher would use his basement railroad display to complement the scouts' education.

About two months ago, at the

Mourning —

Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd in Prospect Heights, Gallagher orchestrated a mock blast-off for the scouts seeking their space exploration merit badge.

"He went way out of his way to make it fun and educational," Scoutmaster Dan Perkins said. At every phase of the countdown, Gallagher had the script and his players ready.

"The effort he put forth was above the call of duty," Perkins said. "He tried to put a lot of fun into things, and things that weren't fun, he tried to make fun."

GALLAGHER THREW THE same kind of energy into the park district. First active as a coach, he later ran for the board. He was in the middle of a four-year term when he died.

As board president for the past year, and as a board member for the past four, Gallagher, like his involvement elsewhere, only looked to improve the park district, colleagues said.

"I don't think there was a bad bone in his body," park board candidate and long-time friend Greg Klatecki said. "He always listened, he always tried to make some changes to improve things."

"He wasn't motivated by any hidden agendas, he just tried to do as much good for as many people," board member Tony Abruscato said.

AND EVEN WITH the park board and their twice-monthly meetings, meeting attendants would always get a good dose of what made Jim Gallagher tick. Whether it be talking about the scouts, the upcoming Up With Wheeling cleanup day, or the many teams his children played on, the names of his children and wife would come up.

"If you attended one park meeting, you would leave knowing the names of his children," Abruscato said. Sometimes, the kids would be there, working on their citizenship badges for scouts or just waiting until their dad was finished with his meeting.

"He put his family first, and his kids," Klatecki said.

Sheila Schultz first met Gallagher when he started working for the independent party started in the 1970s that would eventually put Schultz on the board as trustee and later village president. As a veteran campaign worker, Schultz saw Gallagher's drive to work for improving the village.

BEGINNING WITH THOSE years and later working with Gallagher through the park district, Schultz saw the family commitment that Gallagher made a priority.

"They were just such a part of each other's lives," Schultz said. "He wanted them to experience what he was experiencing."

County board sends wish list to the state

By Kathy Rosemann
Staff Writer

Uncollected mobile home taxes, bicycle trails and mud on highways are some of the Lake County concerns that will be offered to the state legislature this year.

The legislative wish list approved recently by the county board requests state law that would: allow the county board to meet in facilities not owned by the county; codify the many new laws on trash disposal to simplify local compliance; allow the county to establish special tax areas to pay for tollway interchanges in participation with the Tollway Authority; and provide for state reimbursement of public defenders.

Uncollected mobile home taxes have been an issue in Lake County for several years, since the county has about 3,000 mobile homes, according to Lake County Treasurer Jack Anderson.

"A lot of the taxes aren't being paid because we don't have access to the trailer parks," said Anderson. "The park owners won't let the assessors in. We don't know who owns what."

MOBILE HOMES ARE not considered real estate improvements, but they have been assessed as personal property, with the tax bill for a new mobile home being 15 cents per square foot. The Lake County legislative program suggests that a mobile home be assessed as a real estate improvement. Owners of mobile home parks rent land to the owners of mobile homes. The landowner pays a real estate tax on unimproved land.

"About 55 percent of mobile home owners, maybe, are paying," said Anderson.

When a mobile home is sold, said Anderson, the new owner is supposed to be recorded on the title. Then, the tax assessor is able to send the tax bill to the right person. However, said Anderson, mobile homeowners apparently are not reporting sales to the state, making it more difficult to collect the taxes.

"We don't know how good our lists are," said Anderson. "We have no way to get the names of owners."

MUD ON HIGHWAYS near landfills might become a thing of the past if landfills were required to have truck-cleaning equipment. At least, that's the theory behind a request for such state legislation. Apparently, truck drivers can be ticketed for leaving muddy tracks behind, but that doesn't help if there is no equipment at the landfill for cleaning truck wheels.

Former county auditor liked working behind the scenes

BY EILEEN O. DADAY

Daily Herald Correspondent

A few times during his long tenure with Chicago politics and Cook County government, John J. Gallagher thought of running for public office.

But he never did, family members say, choosing instead to stay with what he knew best: working behind the scenes as a capable administrator and auditor.

"He was never interested in public recognition," said his oldest son, Tom, of Arlington Heights. "He only wanted the respect of his mentors and bosses, people like Dan Ronan, Joe McDonough and George Dunne."

Mr. Gallagher lived most recently in Arlington Heights, and before that in Wheeling and Norridge. He died Monday of congestive heart failure at the age of 79.

His seven children describe their father as a lifelong Democrat who grew up on the west side of Chicago, and came up the ranks of the organization through hard work and loyalty, starting in his early 20s.

John J. Gallagher

For a long time, Mr. Gallagher served as a precinct captain of the former 30th Ward on the west side.

"He took his role seriously, as part of delivering the nuts and bolts of local government," Tom Gallagher said.

Mr. Gallagher's service and background as a CPA earned him a role as supervisor of auditing for the city of Chicago from 1958 until 1960, when he was appointed deputy clerk of the Municipal Court of Chicago under McDonough.

Included in that job was the task of heading up the city's traffic court, which family members say was the biggest challenge of his career.

"He was given the job of straightening it out when it was all a paper-based system," Tom Gallagher said. "Under his leadership, they introduced the traffic court to data processing efficiency."

Mr. Gallagher's success administrating Cook County's circuit courts, including accounting for all of the records from village, municipal and county courts, led him to be appointed in 1969 as Cook County auditor by then-president George Dunne.

In that capacity, Mr. Gallagher was responsible for monitoring county tax revenue, among other things, and he held that position until he retired.

Mr. Gallagher is survived by his wife Maridel, and his children Tom (Gina, Michael (Mary), of Chicago, Kevin, of Hainsville, John, Jr. (Marie) of Mundelein, Mary Pat Henke of Hainsville, Martin (Ann) of Grayslake, and Maureen of Chicago; and seven grandchildren.

Visitation for Mr. Gallagher takes place from 3-9 p.m. today at Gibbons Funeral Home, 134 S. York Road in Elmhurst, before a 10 a.m. funeral Mass takes place on Friday at Maryville Academy, 1150 N. River Road in Des Plaines.

Former Dist. 21 chief a pioneer who stood up to criticism

Debra Ahern | Daily Herald Staff

Published: 6/10/2009 12:00 AM

Ken Gill loved a good battle.

In 1968 he took on busloads of John Birch Society supporters and many in his own community when he defended teaching sex education in Wheeling Township Elementary District 21. Some parents slapped on "Gill's Got To Go" bumper stickers and he waved to them as they drove past.

"He was a pioneer," said Gregg Crocker, the interim principal at Cooper Junior High who started with District 21 in 1974 and worked with Gill. "He wanted kids to learn those concepts in school and not out on the street. He had a number of parents who simply weren't dealing with the topic at all."

Gill, 83, died June 1 at his home in Sturgeon Bay, Wis., where he lived after retiring from District 21 in 1980.

Gill was born in the southern Illinois town of O'Fallon. He served in the Navy in World War II and the Korean War. He earned his bachelor's degree from Illinois College, his master's from the University of Illinois and his doctorate in education from Northern Illinois University.

When Gill shepherded District 21, it more than quadrupled in size.

When he began in 1959 there were three schools and 1,100 students. By the time Gill retired there were 17 schools and 11,000 students. Influenced by his blind mother, Gill was instrumental in starting a Braille program for blind students in the district. He also helped start a special education program and before- and after-school day care.

At his retirement, Gill recalled that the toughest period he had in District 21 was when the conservative John Birch Society tried to force out the district's sex education program.

Some opponents threatened to take the issue to the U.S. Supreme Court, and famed attorney F. Lee Bailey offered to represent District 21 for free. The lawsuit never materialized.

"The issue wasn't sex education, it was Communism," Gill told a reporter when he retired in 1980. "Their propaganda program was unbelievable."

"The sad part about it was that it affected the education program. We were in the forefront of a lot of issues. Part of that was my fault. I've always been outspoken."

"I was outspoken for all the right people," Crocker said.

"He was a champion of the underdog," he said. "He was never afraid of going nose-to-nose with someone. He always said the smartest people in the district were the guys in the maintenance department."

In November 1980, the school board named the district's administration center "The Kenneth F. Gill Administration Building" in honor of his 21 years of service.

Gill is survived by his wife, Margaret, daughter, Diane Sawyer of Arlington Heights, son, Michael of Highland Park and four grandchildren.

Condolence cards can be sent to the Gill Family in care of District 21, 999 W. Dundee Road, Wheeling, IL 60090. They will be delivered to Gill's family.

Lord, make me an instrument of Your peace. Where there is hatred, let me sow love; where there is injury, pardon; where there is doubt, faith; where there is despair, hope; where there is darkness, light; and where there is sadness, joy.

O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console; to be understood as to understand; to be loved, as to love, for it is in giving that we receive; it is in pardoning that we are pardoned, and it is in dying that we are born to Eternal Life. Amen.

Remember, O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it known that anyone who fled to thy protection, implored thy help, and sought thy intercession, was left unaided. Inspired with this confidence, I fly unto thee, O Virgin of virgins, my Mother. To thee do I come, before thee I stand, sinful and sorrowful. O Mother of the Word Incarnate, despise not my petitions, but in thy mercy, hear and answer me. Amen
Jesus, Mary, Joseph,
My Jesus, mercy.
O Sacred Heart of Jesus,
I place my trust in Thee.

A recent letter from Africa from Clifford Grandt C.M. 3/c of Wheeling stated that he had been enjoying news from the Cook County Herald but had been missing letters from home.

His family has been writing regularly but perhaps, as has been the experience of some of the other boys, his letters were held up while the paper happened to go through and Clifford may be assured that there are always letters on the way.

DOLORES "LORIE" GRANDT(1928 - 2016)

PROSPECT HEIGHTS - Dolores "Lorie" Grandt, 87, former resident of Wheeling, passed away at her home surrounded by her family on Saturday evening, January 2, 2016. She was born October 1, 1928 in Chicago, the second daughter of Roy and Agnes (Linnebom) Brewer. She grew up in Chicago, graduated from Schurz High School, and worked for Illinois Bell Telephone Co. as a switchboard operator. She met her husband, Edward "Gordon" Grandt in a soda shop, they fell in love and were united in marriage on October 29, 1947. The couple built and made their home in Wheeling for many years, raised their family of 4 daughters, and later moved to Prospect Heights. She is survived by her loving daughters, Karen Grandt of Long Grove, Illinois, Regina (Greg) Drake of Belleville, Michigan and Reva Powell and Karla (Kevin) Mowers both of Huntley, Illinois, her grandchildren, Amanda and Meghan McLenon, Robert Powell, Amy Lee, her great-grandchildren, Caitlyn, Emily, Hailey, and Allison Khon, Jackson, Lauren, and Emma

Powell, Austin and Kaden Lee, and many nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her husband Gordon, her sister, June Bredar and her son-in-law, Lloyd D. Powell. She also leaves behind her beloved "granddogs", Ginger and Dewey, Zoe and Lexi, Webster, and the late Maya. She was an avid dog lover. Her love for dogs was so strong that she became the owner of many in her lifetime, and that love evolved into operating a home based custom dog boarding business for over 45 years. She continued to board dogs until a little over a year ago when her health would no longer allow it. That was very hard for her to accept since she absolutely loved taking care of dogs, but she got fulfillment from her family's dogs and being a loyal contributor to many animal rescue and welfare organizations. She loved animals, wildlife, birds, and nature. She loved feeding and watching her birds and squirrels every day; enjoyed her beautiful backyard; her home; and especially visits with her daughters. She was a devoted wife, cherished mother, proud grandmother, loyal and respected friend. She was an exceptional woman and an amazing person. She was gracious; fun; had a great sense of humor; compassionate; forgiving; supportive; generous; understanding; caring; loving; and was always there for her family. She will be missed beyond measure by her daughters and by one granddog in particular, Webster who spent a great deal of time with her in the past few years. She will be remembered fondly by all who were fortunate enough to have known her. Our hearts feel empty and full of sorrow, yet we are grateful to have had you for our mother and are proud to be your daughters. That we will forever treasure. Mom, we will miss your smile, your laughter, the sparkle in your eyes, our conversations, your words of wisdom ... but above all, your presence. In lieu of flowers, we ask donations be made in our mothers memory to one of her favorite animal welfare organizations or another of your choosing, Best Friends Animal Sanctuary, 5001 Angel Canyon Road, Kanab, UT 84741-5000; As Good As Gold, Golden Retriever Rescue of Illinois, P.O. Box 533, Wheeling, IL 60090; Animal House Shelter, 13005 Ernesti Road, Huntley, IL 60142. Interment is private, a family memorial gathering is being planned for a later date. To whom it may concern:

Thank you very much for the copy of "Wheeling through the Years." It is greatly appreciated.

The enclosed check is for a copy of "Wheeling Cemetery" booklet. I mean the old, old cemetery on the hill on Dundee Road. My great grandfather Johann Grewe and his second wife Anna, born Landahl are buried there. I also believe many Grewe's who perished during the great flu epidemic of 1918 are somewhere in the area. Grewe's were also most likely old time citizens of the village, farmers, business people, and also city folk. One Grewe was stabbed at Haymarket and made it all the way back to Wheeling, where he died. I am also searching for his grave.

Thank you very much for your help.

Sincerely,

Daniel Ray "Dan" Gribbon

A memorial service for Daniel Ray "Dan" Gribbon of Cottage Grove, Wis., will be held at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, March 19, at Gundersen East Funeral Home, 5203 Monona Drive, Monona, Wis., with a time of sharing from 10:30 a.m. until the time of the service.

Born May 31, 1949, in Redwood Falls, Minn., to Raymond T. and Sarah Stevenson Gribbon, he died Saturday, March 15, 2008, at the Hospice Care Inc. Center in Madison, Wis., after a battle with Alzheimer's Disease for over five years.

Under Dan's leadership, the Couples Program, the Friends of IGIs Program and the School Friends Program were established. The agency expanded into Columbia, Marquette and Green counties under Dan's leadership as well. Dan also served a term as president of Big Brothers Big Sisters of Wisconsin. One of his proudest accomplishments was to be a big brother match to a 12-year-old little brother named Mark Rounds. Mark and Dan's match did not end when Mark became 18, but Dan remained close while Mark started a family and eventually became a top executive in his field.

Dan loved family, friends, fishing (especially in Canada and Door County), travel and putting in his gardens. He was involved in Downtown Rotary Club of Madison for many years.

Dan was preceded in death by his parents and is survived by his loving wife, Julie Mandelert Gribbon; brother, John (Sue) Gribbon; nephews and niece, JT Gribbon, Jennifer (Jack) Bedrosian and Mitchell Mandelert; and great-nephews, Luke, Jacob and Matthew Bedrosian.

In lieu of flowers, the family suggests memorials be given to any of the following: the Daniel R. Gribbon Achievement Award Fund of Big Brothers Big Sisters of Dane County, the Alzheimer's Association or Hospice Care Inc.

Finally, the family wishes to thank Britt Hutchinson, Angela Novosetic and Megan Gerber for their exceptional in-home care of Dan during his struggles.

James 'Harry' Griffith ~ 1932-2006

Man was a fixture at golf course

BY NADIA MALIK

Daily Herald Staff Writer

Anyone who's been to the Buffalo Grove Golf Course likely knew James "Harry" Griffith.

The Wheeling resident spent almost half of his life at the golf club, working there full time after his retirement.

Mr. Griffith, 73, died May 8 while with his daughter in Montrose, Colo.

"He was pretty much part of the family," said Paula Wataski, a golf professional at the club. "We were family to him, and he was family to us."

Mr. Griffith grew up in the area, living most of his life in Arlington Heights.

He worked for Weber Marketing systems for 30 years and while he had a full-time job, he spent nights and weekends at the golf course, starting out as a bartender.

Mr. Griffith's only daughter, Kim Karalus, said she learned golf from her father and often teamed up with him for tournaments.

"We played in those once a month through the summer," she said.

After his retirement, Mr. Griffith spent a full eight hours a day working as a starter and ranger on the golf course.

"He loved working there," Karalus said. "He really was a 'people' person, so he loved being out there with the people."

He also had a reputation for getting along well with the women who golfed at the club.

"Harry was good for always (having) a hug for the ladies," Wataski said.

In fact, Karalus said several cards she received after her father's death came from women in the Tuesday morning ladies' league.

Stories he told before he passed away indicated it was a trick he had cultivated his whole life.

Karalus' daughter, Stephanie Zweck, sat down with her grandfather when he moved to Colorado — just days before he died — to write down his memories.

Karalus said she and Zweck agreed the funniest and most memorable story was when Mr. Griffith was dating in high school.

"He would date a girl, and he would tell her, 'Tomorrow's my birthday,'" Karalus said. "He would get presents and what have you and then break up with her and tell the same thing to his next girlfriend."

Karalus and the rest of Mr. Griffith's family will be holding a memorial from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. June 9 at the Buffalo Grove Golf Course, 48 Raupp Blvd., to hear other stories about his life from family and friends. Friends and acquaintances of Mr. Griffith are invited and tell a few stories of their own.

"He was just a fixture (at the course)," Wataski said. "Everybody's shell-shocked that he's not here."

GULK, BRIAN A.
 Brian A. Gulik, born June 19, 1986, suddenly, beloved husband of Elyse Cahill; loving son of Larry and Rita, nee Laskowski; dearest brother and best friend to Eileen; dear son-in-law of Denise and John Cahill; cherished grandson of Virginia and the late Casey Laskowski; brother-in-law of Cullom and Becca Cahill. A talented young man who left us way too soon. An award winning musician who played drums, mastered the piano and sang in the Wheeling H.S. Madrigals and U of I Community Chorus. He wrote and composed many original songs. A writer who created funny, zany short stories. An artist who not only sketched on paper but fabricated modern sculptures from junk and everyday materials. And if you were family or a close friend you received on your birthday a custom made, often three dimensional card with a special hand penned birthday greeting. A graduate of the University of Illinois, he set out to find his place in the world. He worked for a time as a bank teller, but found it too boring. He surprised us all by next becoming a bicycle messenger in downtown Chicago. He did this for three years, riding over 25 miles every day. If that wasn't enough he competed in bicycle rallies after work! Recently he returned to school and became a licensed EMT, the first step on his journey to becoming a paramedic. Looking for a position to open with an ambulance service, he took a job as a waiter. He took great pride in doing a good job, always getting everything "just right" for his customers, who rewarded him with good tips. Brian had a big heart and wanted to help everyone. He loved all, especially family. He recently married his college sweetheart and planned on buying a house and raising a family. Somehow the universe had other plans for him. He left us on Monday, October 8, 2012, at the young age of 26. We will all miss him and wonder, "WHY?" Visitation Friday 4 to 9 p.m. at Casey Laskowski & Sons F.H., 4540-50 W Diversey Ave., Chicago Saturday meeting at St. Alphonsus Ligouri Church, 411 N. Edward Sol Gusfield "never had a bad word to say about anybody," said Scott Wood of Time Products International.

Pioneer in gift business always willing to help

'I can see what I can do' was the answer to every request for assistance made to developer of 'premium items' line

By Liam Ford
Tribune staff reporter

9/1/05

Edward Sol Gusfield was always willing to help a colleague with friendly advice or lend a hand to anyone who needed assistance.

Mr. Gusfield, 88, of Skokie, was a co-owner of Time Products International of Wheeling, a company that supplies clocks and other commemorative gifts. He was a much-loved pioneer in the industry, colleagues said.

Mr. Gusfield, who had been at work last week, died in his sleep Saturday, Aug. 27, at his home. "Ed never had a bad word to say about anybody," said Scott Wood, vice president of sales and marketing for the company, who began working with Mr. Gusfield in 1993. "He was warm, he was open and he respected other people's opinions."

A native of Chicago, Mr. Gusfield attended Northwestern University during the Depression, earning a diploma in commerce while working for the A&P Tea Co., a national grocery chain.

"I wasn't able to go to college all time, but I did go to night school... two nights a week for even years," Mr. Gusfield told PB Magazine, a trade publication, in a 2001 profile.

After A&P, Mr. Gusfield joined the advertising and merchandising department of the Chicago Herald-American. Mr. Gusfield visited retailers who advertised in the newspaper to make sure they put up signs or ad other tie-ins with the Herald-American.

In May 1940 Mr. Gusfield was drafted into the Army, going into Officer Candidate School after the Pearl Harbor attack. He was sent to North Africa, took part in the invasion of Sicily and was shipped to Corsica before being part of a force that invaded southern France. At the end of the war, his unit built bridges in Germany and France.

After World War II, Mr. Gusfield remained a member of the Army Reserves until 1972, when he retired as a colonel, said his wife of 63 years, Ann.

At one reunion, other officers described his philosophy of life as "mean what you say, say what you mean, but don't say it meanly," she said.

Mr. Gusfield opened a mail-order company and a few years later began selling gifts for customers—called "premium items" in the industry—through another company he started. In 1978, as he was nearing what often is considered retirement age, Mr. Gusfield met the founder of Time Products International, Herb Kwok, and eventually became his partner, as well as his mentor, co-workers said.

When someone asked Mr. Gusfield for help, "He would never say no. He would say, 'I can see what I can do,'" his wife said. "People would come to him if they needed some advice about the industry, or some help with something in business."

While at Time Products, where he rose to senior vice president of sales and marketing, Mr. Gusfield had the energy "of a person a third of his age," Wood said. "You couldn't keep the guy down."

Mr. Gusfield would be sought out by people at industry trade shows, said Kippie Helzel, a longtime friend and industry colleague.

"He had a real twinkle in his eyes. He exuded goodness," Helzel said.

Aside from his wife, survivors include his brothers, Bernard and Joseph. Services have been held.

PETER P. GUTTILLA, 87

Peter P. Guttilla, 87, of Glenview, a former sheriff's official, died Thursday, Oct. 30, in Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge. Meticulous and a good listener, Mr. Guttilla didn't like to be in the spotlight—and that's probably part of what made him a good police investigator, his family says. "He was a private person and didn't like a lot of attention paid to him," said his daughter, Patricia Daukus. Raised on Chicago's North Side, Mr. Guttilla attended Waller High School. He met Mary Wilken at Merry Gardens Ballroom, and they married in 1941. In the mid-1940s Mr. Guttilla joined the Marine Corps and served in China near the end of World War II. He joined the Cook County sheriff's office a few years later and rose to the rank of sergeant-detective. Mr. Guttilla served as Wheeling chief of police from 1973 to 1974. Before retiring in 1981, he also was an investigator for the president of the Cook County Board and served as the deputy assessor for Maine Township, among other positions. "Everybody enjoyed his company," said his son, Nicholas. Other survivors include two brothers, Patrick and Sam; two sisters, Katherine Lazzara and Ann Thurkow; and three grandchildren. Visitation will be held from 4 to 8 p.m. Sunday in N.H. Scott & Hebblethwaite Funeral Home, 1240 Waukegan Rd., Glenview. Mass will be said at 10 a.m. Monday in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, 1775 Grove St., Glenview.

Memorial marks fatal Arlington Hts. crash site

By Madhu Krishnamurthy | Daily Herald Staff

Published: 5/23/2009 12:02 AM

A wooden cross, an artificial purple rose, carnations and candles mark the site where Jose Antonio Guzman-Ojeda of Wheeling was killed in a car crash in Arlington Heights late Wednesday.

No citations had been issued in the accident as of Friday, Arlington Heights Police said.

Guzman-Ojeda, 26, was a rear seat passenger in a 1999 Pontiac Grand Am that went off the road and hit a tree while speeding eastbound on Palatine Road east of Rand Road, police said.

Funeral arrangements for Guzman-Ojeda are pending.

The driver, Gerardo Torres-Salas, 28, of Prospect Heights, and a 26-year-old passenger from Wheeling were released Friday from Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights. The condition of a fourth occupant - a Prospect Heights resident whose age is unknown - at Advocate Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge could not be determined.

Wheeling man dies in accident

A 21-year-old Wheeling man died last week from injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident in Arlington Heights.

Frank Guzzetta died at Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights from "massive head trauma" following a Aug. 16 accident that also claimed the life of David Flack, 23, of Arlington Heights.

According to Arlington Heights Deputy Police Chief Ronald McClaskey, Guzzetta and Flack were northbound on Wilke Road when Flack apparently lost control of his motorcycle as he tried to make a turn.

McClaskey said Flack and Guzzetta, neither of whom were wearing helmets, came out of the turn, just south of Palatine Road as Wilke Road bends to the left and entered westbound traffic.

They then struck an oncoming car, slid into the curb and were tossed northward onto the shoulder of the road. Flack was pronounced dead upon arrival at Northwest Community. Guzzetta was put in the intensive care unit of the hospital and died later, McClaskey said.
